3 Men Committed To Trial On Armed Robbery Charge

Three men charged with the armed robbery of $4,000 from the Wilberforce Veneer and Lumber Co. Ltd. on May 5 were committed to trial last Thursday afternoon following a two and a half hour preliminary hearing, conducted by Magistrate C. W. Morrison.

The trio, Damas Hamel, 27, and his brother, Ernest, 17, both of Kitchener and Edward Phillip Watters, 28, of Cornwall elected trial by judge without a jury.

Bail was set at $5,000 cash each or $10,000 property with two sureties. No date has been set for trial.

Susan Klapow, 18, of Wilberforce, has been on as office girl and payroll clerk with the company for about a year. She was alone in the office when she was locked in the company vault and robbed of nearly $4,000.

She told the court there is no bank in Wilberforce. The payroll is brought from the bank in Haliburton on Wednesdays. On Friday she puts the money in pay envelopes for the employees.

On May 5 Miss Klapow was alone in the office. A man came in about 2:30 p.m. looking for a job, she said, and she handed him an application form.

She said the man, dressed in blue jeans and a red plaid shirt, identified himself as Ernest Hamel. He filled out the form and handed it to her and then left, she related.

Later, she said, he returned and told her he had put the wrong telephone number on the application form. The correction was made and the man again left the office, she said.

Miss Klapow told the court the pay envelopes were on her desk when the man came in and the cash box had been open on the desk. She closed the cash-box and put it into the vault before handing him the application form.

When the man left for the second time he got into a car with two other men, said Miss Klapow. She said the car went down the road, turned around and returned, parking across the street from the office.

The car remained across the street. The man, she said, lingered on the way out and then proceeded to the waiting car.

About five minutes later, she recounted, a second man entered the office and identified himself as Damas Hamel, Ernest's brother.

er. She said he also wanted to make out an application for employment.

When he had filled out the form, Miss Klapow told him that was all the information she needed and she put the application on her desk, she said.

When Miss Klapow turned around, she was staring into a gun-barrel, she told the court. "I was startled — it seemed unreal." She described the weapon as being a pistol, like the ones often seen in war movies, except it seemed to have a small bore.

Miss Klapow testified he wanted the payroll money and after she had given it to him, he said he wanted the cash-box also. He then asked if there was more money in the vault.

When she told him that was all

OPP Report Busy Period

Minden Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police report a very busy period for the week of May 21 to May 27. They investigated two property damage accidents with total damage amounting to $1,725.00 and two personal injury accidents with four persons injured and damage to the vehicles estimated at $2,250.00.

Cottage break-ins took up a considerable amount of time as seven were investigated along with six thefts, two assaults, two disturbances, two trespassing complaints, one drowning and two missing persons. Six messages of a compassionate nature were delivered to persons visiting the county.

Also during the week the officers of Minden Detachment patrolled 3,440 miles of provincial and county roads and laid twelve traffic charges.

Since the tourist season is again upon us, we will no doubt receive several complaints of people trespassing on somebody else's property. The following will help to clear up any misunderstandings which may arise with regards to trespassing and is taken from the Petty Trespass Act: Every person who unlawfully enters or in any other way trespasses upon another person's property, (a) that is enclosed, (b) that is a garden or lawn OR (c) with respect to which he has had notice by word of mouth, or in writing or by posters or sign boards so placed as to be visible from every point of access to the land, not to trespass and whether or not any damage has been occasioned thereby is guilty of an offence and on summary conviction is liable to a fine.

School Board Hold Banquet

The Fourth Annual Banquet given by the Dysart T.S.A. Board for its employees was held at Sir Sam's Inn on Saturday night, May 27. The dinner was attended by over sixty persons. The toast to the Queen was purposed by Mr. Keith Carnochan and the grace was asked by Mrs. Doreen Stinson. Chairman for the evening was Mrs. E. Hobden.

During the dinner there was a "door" prize awarded with this year's winner being Mrs. Stuart Baker.

The guest speaker of the evening was Mr. Andy Anderson, former School Inspector in Victoria County. Mr. Anderson was introduced by Mr. Nelson Ward, who also made a few brief remarks regarding the benefits of having such banquets to produce an important closer liaison among those involved in education in this area. In keeping with the Centennial Year Mr. Anderson described a town in western Ontario in which he had been raised at a period of time shortly after the death of Sir John A. MacDonald. He pointed out how the people of that town lived harmoniously prospered together and then he remarked on the waste of good land in that area in this day and age, pointing out how quickly man may destroy his resources. His message concluded that a country must have a purpose to prosper and we must all find Canada's purpose and hoped that it might be one of peace as this Dominion was founded in peace. Mr. Anderson was thanked for his address by Mrs. Marjorie Watson.

Following the address by Mr. Anderson, Mr. Len Salvatori paid tribute to the 21 years of service which Mrs. Catherine Chambers has given the Dysart School Board and expressed the regret of the Board to be losing such a loyal, uncompromising and conscientious teacher, but wished her well on her retirement. She was presented with an engraved silver tray and a dozen red roses. The esteem in which Mrs. Chambers is held was demonstrated by the standing ovation she received from those present.

Following dinner music was provided by Mr. Bill Gliddon for a sing song and quiet and relaxed fellowship was enjoyed by those present.

Returns To Land Of Birth

Mr. Walter Webb, accompanied by his wife Jessie and his sister Mrs. Ben Smith of Port Perry, have just experienced the thrill of a lifetime by returning to a little spot near Norwich in Norfolk, England where they were born.

Walter said he rented a car at Cambridge and with the aid of a road map drove without any further inquiry to the spot and found nearly every detail exact although leaving for Canada with the rest of his family at the age of six, over 54 years ago.

After visiting their last two remaining Aunts and numerous cousins they regard this as a highlight for our Centennial Year.

Congratulations

Congratulations this week to Miss Robin Schell of Haliburton, a former student of the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School. Robin who has been attending Teachers' College in Peterborough came out as an honour student and therefore did not have to try her final exams. She will start to teach school at Whitby in September.

Robin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Schell of Haliburton.

Letters To The Editor

Box 287,
Haliburton, Ontario,
May 29, 1967.

The Editor,
Haliburton County Echo,
Haliburton, Ontario.

Dear Sirs:

At long last we are able to close the accounts of this past spring's Crusade for Christ and present an accounting to the residents of our County. We have been held up by the slowness of billings.

Those of us on the Crusade Committee and the other pastors of participating churches were very grateful for the response to our efforts in this Crusade. The High School Board very graciously allowed us to use the Auditorium. The school custodians did an excellent job of keeping the auditorium neat at all times. The evangelistic team gave of themselves unstintingly in their presentation of the timeless message of the Gospel. The people of our County responded well.

Again we are able to report that the Crusade was also a financial success. Our receipts and expenditures were as follows:

Balance from 1966	148.90
Counselling materials	15.10
Offerings	938.05
From churches	231.00

Total	1333.05
Television	50.00
Printing	269.48
Signs and Posters	52.00
High School	40.00
Song Sheets	8.00
Camp Medeba	100.00
Evangelists	200.00

Total

At the business meeting following the close of the Crusade all present agreed that the Haliburton Highlands Crusade for Christ should go on record approving the work of the Campbell-Reese Evangelistic Association and moved that an offering of $500.00 be sent to the Association to help with the work of furthering the Gospel and the many expenses involved thereby.

This leaves us a balance in our books of $113.57 for future evangelistic efforts.

Yours sincerely,
Noel McNeill, Sec.-Treas.,
Haliburton Highlands
Crusade for Christ.

HALIBURTON NEWS LETTER

We learn that Walter L. Hobden has accepted a teaching position in Eganville, Ontario. Mr. and Mrs. Hobden have played an important role in Council, Board of Education and Church affairs in this area. We are pleased to know that they are not severing all their ties with Haliburton and are retaining their home here, so that we will be seeing them from time to time.

The sympathy of our community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Loral Combs whose young seven-year-old son, Darryl, passed away at the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto on Sunday, May 28.

Our weather is sunny but cool and we had ground frost on Tuesday and Wednesday mornings of this week.

A notice in this paper extends an invitation to the businessmen of the village of Haliburton to attend a meeting in the Curling Rink on Thursday, June 8 at 8:15 p.m. sharp. It is our expectation that all who are in any way identified with business and are interested in speeding up progress in this town will turn out for this important meeting.

An organization meeting of the Women's Liberal Association for this area was held in the Orange Hall on Wednesday last. Twenty-four ladies were present and plans were made to organize the whole county in preparation for the provincial election whenever it may be called. The Liberal nominee, Mayor John Eakins of Lindsay, and David Logan were present at the meeting.

The Dysart Community Arena promises to be a very busy place not only during the summer months of July and August but right up to the time at which the regular season gets underway. We are informed that in addition to the Haliburton Haven Hockey School and Verne Buffey's Referee's School the following teams are applying for ice time: Peterborough T.P.T. Junior 'A' Hockey Team, Minnesota North Stars and a team from Wichita, Kansas. Ice making operations will commence June 26.

Ricard Real Estate have opened an office on the west end of Highland Street with Mrs. Betty Brohm in charge.

If you're looking for a place to start on home improvements, consider these facts about electric wiring.

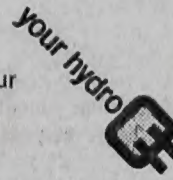

To most people, home improvements mean a paneled recreation room or a shiny new set of kitchen cupboards. But there's a way to improve the improvements: modernize your home wiring first.

Up-to-date wiring lets you make the most of the new room you're building, or the old one you're re-styling. It lets you place your lighting wherever you like, have as many electrical outlets as you choose, and use as many appliances as you need without popping fuses.

In fact, you'll notice pleasant changes all through your home. Modern wiring can improve the efficiency of your lighting and the performance of your appliances. It puts such comforts as electric heating and air conditioning well within your reach. It can also make a big difference to the safety and re-sale value of your home. Before you reach for your toolbox, reach for your telephone. Call a qualified electrical contractor, or your Hydro.

Up-to-date wiring costs less than you may think. Yet it could be your most important home improvement of all.

HALIBURTON IGA MARKET

By ROBERT F. NIXON
Ontario Liberal Leader

It's most unusual for an Ontario cabinet minister to deny that the services under his jurisdiction warrant the most glowing superlatives. But that's precisely what the Minister of Education, Mr. Davis, did in bringing his spending estimates before the Legislature.

Rising on a point of order during the general debate on education expenditures, the Minister said "the Leader of the Opposition is suggesting that I have referred to the school system of this province as being excellent. I have not used the term."

Now, it takes great courage for a Minister of the Crown to make such an admission, but I think Mr. Davis was simply acknowledging what Opposition spokesmen have been saying for years — that we have a long way to go in Ontario to bring about equality of educational opportunity. The education system in this province suffers from too many built-in rigidities, and fails to take into account the varying individual student's needs. Many children in rural areas, children with learning disabilities, newcomers and culturally disadvantaged children are not being accommodated in our education system in many parts of the province. As well, bright children, in many instances, are held back by the system so they'll keep in step with children of average intelligence. They don't fit any of the department's preconceived moulds and, consequently, they either drop out or do poorly in school.

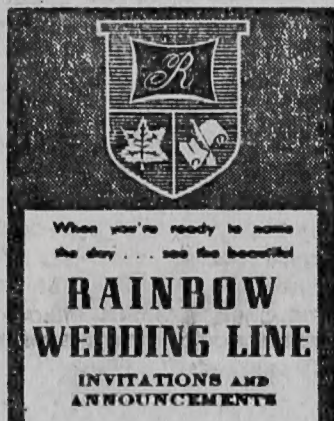

These are the children who require our immediate attention; we must provide them with an opportunity to advance within the school system according to their individual talents or in spite of their handicaps. We must not be guilty of stunting their lives by a system which is designed basically for the average student.

Ontario must develop a clear academic path for children who can complete thirteen years of schooling in twelve years rather than maintaining the present arbitrary and somewhat inflexible scheme. At the same time, we must build regional facilities across the province to help the physically handicapped and emotionally disturbed children and the children with learning disabilities; and we must expand the kindergarten program for culturally disadvantaged children — youngsters from lower income families who now enter the system on a poor cultural footing and find it difficult, in spite of high or average intelligence, to compete in our classrooms. We must improve language classes for the children of newcomers whose sole handicap is their failure to speak English well, so that we can get full advantage from their skills.

More must be done to develop a system — an excellent system — which brings out the individual talents of each child. Assembly-line education, no matter how smoothly it appears to run, has no part in this modern, rapidly-changing world.

SUGAR AND SPICE

THE ANNUAL SUCKER PLAY

Tranquillity is the most evasive thing in the world. At least, it is if you have a family. There must be a few rich, happy bachelors who can put their feet up, read a book and take a trip without becoming involved in several hundred irritations.

Every spring I go through the same routine, and I can't understand why an intelligent man can be so stupid and suckered annually. All it proves to me is that experience teaches you nothing, contrary to the old saw.

Each year, May beckons like a beautiful maiden clad in the finest of draperies. Every year I pursue her, panting (or puffing). And each year she turns out to be an old bat garbed in potato sacks, with a wart on her nose, falsies, and bad breath.

The worst of the Winter's grind is over. And I look for green leaves and a warm breeze, for a soft rain and a warm sun, for a little cool fishing and some hot golf, a little puttering in the yard. Nothing, wild, colourful or exotic. Just a touch of tranquillity. And every May it eludes me with the ease an eel would elude an elephant.

Mostly, it's the Old Lady's fault. Like many women, she begins to see all that shabbiness, in the yellow Spring sunlight, and acts accordingly. For a solid month, I've been looking at drapery material, wall-paper and chisterfield covering. Saturday night, I'd had enough. I told her flatly that I didn't care if she decorated the whole house in pink and purple, but to include me out.

Then I get a one-hour lecture, citing various neighbours and brothers-in-law, on my shortcomings as a husband. So I finally tell her which of the materials I detest. And then she tells me what rotten taste I have.

And a bridle. Yes, I literally. It's quite a trick. I tell her I like the chesterfield as it is. We've only had it 16 years. I ask her what's wrong with the drapes we have? I refuse to admit the rug needs cleaning. And then, as they say, the fat is in the fire, sputtering in all directions and burning painfully when it hits.

And I stomp out into the backyard, quivering with rage, and fear, and glare at the "compost heap"; a pile of old leaves and stones I didn't get raked last fall. And she stomps right after me and glares at me. And I stomp right in again and blurt defiantly, "Well, have it your own way, dear."

That's the only way to settle that. And I thought everything was cleared up and I might get a smidgeon of tranquillity. What a nope. Our prodigal turned up the next day, and we had to kill a roast of beef. And I was expected to take him aside and have a "good talk" with him and "straighten him out."

He was tanned and fit, with a beard that makes him look like a minor prophet. Had just had a pleasant six weeks, bumming around Mexico and the Southern States. Worked for his keep, here and there, from selling fruit in a market to being a servant for a wealthy couple. He's 19.

Had broken a finger, Indian wrestling on the beach at Acapulco. A Mexican doctor set it, badly, and it has to be rebroken and reset.

How do you have a "good straight talk" with a kid who just grins, listens to the blast, and says, politely, "Dad, I have all my life to go to college and settle down to a job and raise a family. What's the rush?" What indeed?

It offends my puritan upbringing, the whole protestant ethic of hard work, and the capitalist-materialist outlook of our society. But I can't help a sneaking agreement with him.

I've been hacking away for 20 years, and have wound up with a couple of kookie kids, a kookie wife, a car owned by the bank, a good-sized mortgage and a job that is draining my life away, drop by drop. What, indeed, is the rush?

Oh, well. Now the family has decided we're going to Expo, and there goes the last hope of a modicum of tranquillity. And what the heck! Tranquillity is for old guys. And I ain't an old guy, he said shakily.

There's always next Spring.

M.P. Set To Help Promote Harness Racing In Lindsay

LINDSAY (ENS) — Victoria-Haliburton riding M.P. William Scott has expressed a willingness to assist the Lindsay Fair Board in promoting harness racing here during July and August with pari-mutual privileges.

"I have not been approached by the Board regarding the proposed weekly racing program, but I am only too willing to assist in any way possible to bring this attraction to Lindsay", Mr. Scott said.

He denied that he has been asked to assist in obtaining approval for the program. "I understood that efforts were being made to promote harness racing at Lindsay, but I have not been approached for any assistance," he said.

TOURIST ATTRACTION

The M.P. feels the proposed program will be a "tremendous" tourist attraction and expressed optimism that the Board will be able to make all the arrangements necessary in the time remaining.

It is planned to hold once-weekly meetings each Wednesday afternoon or evening. The number of races has not been decided, but will either be eight or 10.

Fair Board Manager Newton Wilson said recently the proposal has received enthusiastic response throughout Victoria and Haliburton Counties.

FULLY ENDORSE

The Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce has offered all possible support in advertising and promoting the event.

The Lindsay Chamber of Commerce has fully endorsed the proposal and promised its full support.

Chamber Secretary - Manager Harry MacDonald is enthusiastic about the plans and has offered any assistance he can to promote in the project.

Lindsay Mayor John Eakins feels the harness racing program could be a "wonderful attraction" for this area and has said he will do all possible to assist the Fair Board in completing negotiations for it.

CHURCH NEWS

ST. GEORGE'S W.A., EVENING BRANCH

On Monday, May 15 there were 12 members and two visitors present at the home of Mrs. Reg Brooks for our W.A. meeting. After opening exercises the President, Lois Emmerson, expressed a warm welcome to Mrs. Bowmer to the group and to Haliburton.

Group 4 reported that their objective had been made in sale of tickets to the movie "The King and I" with a total of 257 tickets sold. A motion was passed that the required monies be donated to the building fund for the Sunday School.

Our Educational Secretary, Mrs. Jeanine Carder, introduced the new library book for May, entitled "Taste of New Wine", written by Keith Millar. Excerpts which were read aloud proved to be very interesting and I'm sure everyone will read the book.

On June 18 there is to be a Centennial Church Service held at the High School to which all churches in Haliburton will be going. Guest speaker will be Bob Rumball who is the minister at a Toronto church for the deaf.

The Deanery Meeting is at West Guilford on Wednesday, May 31.

Money was allotted to Rev. Carder for flowers for the church grounds. Our Centennial flowers are coming along well.

Confirmation was held on Sunday, May 28 with Bishop Hunt present. Weather permitting, which it was, a reception was to be held on the front lawn following church, with refreshments served.

Bob Rumball is also to address the B.A.C. at their breakfast on June 18.

A reminder that summer is coming and time to plan for vacation. Camp Koinonia is right in our area and family camping days are from July 15 - 22 and July 22 - 29; so ladies, talk to your men about your holidays.

The meeting closed with prayer and Group 4 served refreshments.

Public Library Gets Film Service

As another service to our County the Library has made arrangements with the National Film Board of Canada for a permanent deposit of motion films to be used by individuals, clubs, charitable organizations and churches.

During the winter months fifteen (15) films will be on deposit at all times, being changed monthly. A list of these films will be available in September for the full ten months and films may be booked for use.

During the summer months sixty (60) films will be on deposit in three locations (Minden, Haliburton and Wilberforce) and may be used by the same groups mentioned above as well as lodges. No provision has yet been made for the lending of viewing equipment. Due to a decrease in grants such expenditure may have to be left until next year.

This service makes available all of the films of the tax-financed National Film Board to our County. The N.F.B. is the winner of many international prizes and awards for its excellent films, a real credit to our Dominion.

All of the procedures of the operation of this service are not yet known but a meeting with N.F.B. representatives is planned.

Water Safety Week May 28 - June 3

Last year we had wonderful summer weather. It was ideal for all the water sports and recreation that we enjoy participating in. But there's a note of tragedy that comes to us from the Red Cross about last summer's fine weather. Because of the increased activity in the water, drownings went up by 14 1/2 per cent.

Drowning already ranks third on the annual list of accidental fatalities in Canada. This toll is too high!

There's only one way to correct it. That is for each of us to become more aware of water safety, and to apply its principles and practices at all times.

Let's not have any drowning tragedies in our community this summer. Learn to survive and stay alive!

By ROBERT F. NIXON Ontario Liberal Leader

Events of the last few weeks have made it clear that perhaps the most important Centennial activity in Canada will be a series, or the beginning of a series, of discussions to re-examine the state of Confederation.

Debate has just concluded here at Queen's Park over the Ontario government's proposal to convene a 'Confederation of Tomorrow Conference' — likely in the fall. And earlier Prime Minister Pearson invited the provincial premiers to participate in a meeting at Ottawa on July 5th to lay the groundwork for the creation of a common Bill of Rights for citizens of all provinces. The Premier of Ontario has stated that this province's conference will be the first. Obviously, it will not. It will be the second. The Ottawa conference will be a forerunner to the Ontario meeting and, hopefully, of similar meetings between federal and provincial leaders across the nation during the next few years.

It is really an unhappy sign that the Ontario government has been insensitive to the requirements, which plain common sense dictates, of seeking the full co-operation of the federal government in proposing the Ontario conference. Ottawa, after all, has a predominant responsibility for the affairs of the country. That is why, although we in the Opposition support the principle of the Conference, we put forward an amendment regretting that the unique position of the federal government has not been recognized in preliminary planning.

We wanted to bring home to the government our concern over the unsatisfactory way the Conference proposal has been handled and to indicate our strong conviction that if the conference is to be successful it is imperative that it be planned in co-operation with Ottawa.

The debate, with nearly 40 M.P.P.'s participating, was conducted at a high level and touched on almost every major federal-provincial issue — federal-provincial relations, cost-sharing, constitutional reform, bilingualism and biculturalism and the relationship between English-speaking and French-speaking Canadians. Bernard Newman (M.P.P., Windsor - Walkerville) reminded us, too, that any federal-provincial discussions must not neglect the one-third of Canadians whose native language and culture is neither English nor French.

But by far the most startling contribution to the debate was by the province's Attorney General, Mr. Wishart, who suggested, in an apparent contradiction of the government's official position, that the provinces have the sovereign right to sit down and decide the course of Confederation and the extent of federal government power. He later clarified the statement by explaining that he meant the provinces had the right simply to discuss these matters, but, in the meantime has certainly ruffled a lot of feathers across the country and caused a good deal of uneasiness in both federal and provincial circles.

MENTAL HEALTH ACT - 1967

This important and progressive measure was introduced by the Honourable M. B. Dymond, Minister of Health, on 19th May, 1967.

It is the result of a full and comprehensive study of mental health legislation begun in June, 1964. The legislation is based upon the findings of this study, which recommended that any new legislation should satisfy the following underlying principles and objectives:-

(1) To delete from the law any references, matters or procedures which subtract from the dignity of the individual.

(2) To ensure that any interference with personal or property rights is no more than is absolutely necessary.

(3) To reassess and revise current legal terminology in accordance with contemporary enlightened opinions.

(4) To enable those in any way involved in helping the mentally disordered to devote their resources to the benefit of the afflicted with the least possible legal restrictions.

(5) To reconstruct in a comprehensive manner the framework of mental health legislation, putting it in a more manageable form.

(6) To place, wherever possible, the prevention, treatment and rehabilitation for mental disorder on the same basis as that for other illnesses.

(7) To provide a pattern of legislation which will accommodate and facilitate the operation of mental health programs at the community level.

DEBATE - CONFEDERATION OF TOMORROW CONFERENCE

One of the most interesting and important debates in the Legislature in many years was opened by the Prime Minister on Thursday, May 18th.

The subject was a resolution which had been placed on the Order Paper by the Prime Minister on the opening day of this session, calling upon the Legislature to endorse his proposal for a Confederation of Tomorrow Conference.

A total of 33 Members took part in the debate - 23 Progressive Conservative, 6 Liberal and 4 New Democratic Party.

The leader of the Liberal Party proposed an amendment which expressed regret that the Government of Ontario, in proposing the Conference, had failed to recognize the unique position of the Federal Government.

Members of the New Democratic Party joined with the Conservatives to defeat this amendment, after which the vote on the main motion was carried by a majority of 70 to 1.

Formal invitations to the Conference, which will be held later this year, will now be despatched by the Prime Minister of Ontario to the Federal and the other Provincial Governments.

THE NATION'S BUSINESS

By WILLIAM C. SCOTT, M.P.

The Ontario Medical Association has asked for a ban on all forms of cigarette advertising. The association's Dr. J. P. Harshman called such a ban "a vital link in the total effects of his organization." The O.M.A. plans a study of the effects of continuous advertising information on the dangers of smoking. It also called for 65 monitoring stations across the province, to test the amount of industrial and other pollution in the air. "Wider control than municipal control is needed", said Dr. Harshman. The association wound up its annual meeting in Toronto on Friday.

The Commons Agriculture Committee says Canada must produce one billion bushels of wheat per year by 1980. The current crop is in the area of 600 million bushels annually. The committee said in its report last week that the grain industry must be modernized for better storage and transportation facilities. Among the ten major recommendations were - expansion of food aid programmes for needy countries; - calling of a national farm policy conference; - elimination of St. Lawrence Seaway tolls; - extension of the jurisdiction of the Canadian Wheat Board.

The Montreal Gazette, in a lead editorial, says that all governments in Canada have over-extended themselves. "If spending continues at its present rate, or even increases, higher revenues are likely to be found mainly by raising taxes", the editorial says. "What has been happening over too many years is the prevailing feeling that Canadians can afford whatever they want", it goes on. "The future", it concludes, "calls for a deep and constant awareness of two facts: the difference between what we would like and what we need, and Louis Rasminsky's oft-quoted statement that 'you cannot get a quart of wine out of a pint jug'."

The Senate - Commons Committee on Consumer Affairs has recommended a large increase in federal mortgages. The report, tabled in both houses last week, urged that the existing $10,000 ceiling on government guaranteed loans for the purchase of existing homes be raised to $18,000. "Your committee feels", it said, "that there is an overwhelming need for a national housing plan based on the premise that every Canadian deserves a decent place to live in." The Speech from the Throne contained reference to changes in the National Housing Act, and the legislation is expected to contain at least some of the committee's recommendations.

If Senator Jacob Javits of New York has his way, Canadian banks operating in the United States will face strict government controls. Senator Javits has introduced a bill in the U.S. Congress that provides for the regulation of foreign banking operations that do not permit reciprocal privileges for American banks in their countries. The bill, if passed, would most seriously affect Canada, since this country has only one American bank, the Mercantile, and that is closely watched by the federal government.

$5,000 Damage In Kinmount Fire

Damage in a house fire near Kinmount last week has been estimated at $5,000.

Kinmount firemen were called about 1 p.m. last Tuesday to extinguish a fire at the home of Ronald Hartin, about a mile north of Kinmount, just off Highway 121.

Fire officials said the blaze started in studding in the floor and burned up through the south wall to the attic of the house.

Using a pumper and a portable pump, four firemen brought the fire under control in about an hour, but the pumper stayed at the scene about two and a half hours to make sure the fire did not break out again.

Cause of the fire is unknown. The loss is covered by insurance.

It was wonderful to see so many from the Hall's Lake district at the Centennial Fun Party in Minden last Friday evening. The Senior Citizens' Home was a lively, happy place and a good time was enjoyed by all. Leonard Stinson won first prize for the best man's costume. The boxed lunches were auctioned off by Doug Pritchard and were so lovely to look at many were reluctant to open them.

Visitors to cottagers are a familiar sight around the lake these days. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Leech of Woodstock, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Burlington of Downsview, a honeymoon couple at Glenroy, and the Rothwells of Guelph have all been seen around the vicinity.

the money there was, he replied, "Let's go and see", and they went to the vault, she said.

She told the court that when she entered the vault the man told her to face the wall.

According to Miss Klapow his next remark was, "You know what's going to happen now" and he locked her in the vault.

She said she couldn't open the door from the inside but she knew it was close to the 3 p.m. coffee-break and someone would come into the office so she began pounding on the door. A few minutes later another girl who works for the company came into the office, heard the noise from inside the locked vault and got another member of the staff to open the door and let Miss Klapow out.

Inspector Thomas Kiley of the Copper Cliff Police Department said he investigated a report of an automobile in a ditch. He said the occupants had already gone to the police station.

Constable Maurice Charette of the Sudbury Police Department and another officer checked the room at the Ramsay Hotel and they found a person lying face down on one of the beds.

Branch Librarians Meet In Haliburton

All of the Branch Librarians of our County Library System met in Haliburton last week in a regular workshop to discuss problems, procedures and plans.

After a general presentation of future activities by Mr. McNeill and some discussion of the grant situation, Mrs. Crofts from Wilberforce and Mrs. Dobbie from Haliburton presented reports on the activities of their committees and their libraries. Questions raised in the reports were discussed to mutual benefit and suggestions made were recorded for future action.

At the close of the session the librarians regathered in the County Library office in the basement of the Dysart Branch Library for coffee and to pick out a few books to freshen up their own collections.

Satisfaction was expressed by many of the librarians at the recent exchange which gave each branch between three and four hundred different books.

County Librarians Meet At Regional Level At Peterboro

Mr. Noel McNeill, Haliburton County Librarian; Mrs. Janet Novakowski, Victoria County Librarian; and Mrs. June Thexton, Regional Librarian, held a meeting in Peterborough on Tuesday to discuss the benefits of library service in larger geographic units, increased library grants and regional film service.

Mr. McNeill remarked that although Provincial grants to the Regional Library have been doubled, Regional grants to Haliburton have been reduced this year.
